

SUPPORT OPPORTUNITIES

2026 ANNUAL MEETING

April 12-14, 2026

HILTON DENVER CITY CENTER, DENVER, COLORADO

DEAR PARTNERS,

The American Society of Preventive Oncology is the only professional society dedicated solely to cancer prevention research. We are a community of investigators, cancer center directors, program leaders, patient advocates, and other cancer prevention and control professionals working together to exchange scientific information to reduce the cancer burden.

ASPO has more than 400 members from all over the country, representing every major cancer center. We offer year-round activities via webinars, networking opportunities, Special Interest Group activities, and our Annual Meeting. With nearly 500 attendees, the meeting brings together scientists, graduate students, postdoctoral trainees, and community and patient advocates to share knowledge and advances in cancer prevention.

We will celebrate ASPO's 50th Anniversary at our Annual Meeting in Denver, Colorado, April 12-14 at the Hilton Denver City Center. As we celebrate our Golden Anniversary, we are focused on honoring the strides cancer research has made while continuing to work toward eliminating the cancer burden and reducing cancer health disparities. Our scientific committee, led by Dr. Dejana Braithwaite and Dr. Anne Kirchhoff, is creating a stimulating program for the 2026 meeting that will focus on 50 years of impact and empowering communities through cancer prevention research.

Our partners are invaluable to ASPO - your support allows us not only to ensure ongoing resources and learning opportunities for members, but also makes ASPO accessible to community partners, patient advocates, students, post-docs, and more.

Please consider becoming a sponsor and joining us in the fight against cancer.
